As hurricanes Eta and Iota barrelled into Central America in November 2020, they flooded towns and cities, caused catastrophic losses in the agricultural sector and contributed to food insecurity.

Mueller Water Products releases second environmental, social and governance (ESG) report further advancing sustainability efforts

Mueller Water Products, Inc. (NYSE:MWA) today announced the release of its second Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) report. The report sets out the company’s sustainability goals and achievements over the past year, and it highlights the company’s ongoing commitment to environmental sustainability.

Bergeron & Campbell, P.C. releases 2022 forecast for U.S. federal and international chemical regulatory policy

Sherritt announces 2021 production results and guidance for 2022

Citing environmental justice, Murphy halts power plant vote

Farmers Business Network® (FBN) and Environmental Defense Fund today announced the launch of the FBN Regenerative Agriculture Finance Fund, one of the first U.S. agricultural financing programs to support the transition to regenerative agriculture. The fund will provide loans to farmers who implement regenerative practices that improve soil health, sequester carbon, and enhance biodiversity.

Human rights defender writes to EU commissioners calling for strong human rights due diligence law that protects human rights defenders

RE: Addressing risks to human rights defenders in the proposed European Union law on Sustainable Corporate Governance. Dear Commissioner Reynders, Dear Commissioner...